From June 22-25, fans will be treated to a diverse range of talented local and national artists, showcasing their skills at various locations throughout the event.

Award-winning country music singer and songwriter Parker McCollum will headline the weekend's lineup while getting fans revved up Sunday for the Ally 400 when he takes the stage as the official pre-race concert performer. McCollum will perform at approximately 4:15 p.m. from the pre-race concert stage located on pit road. The pre-race track pass must be accompanied by a race day ticket.

McCollum is expected to sing many of his popular songs including his No. 1 platinum-selling hits "Pretty Heart" and "To Be Loved By You" from his critically-acclaimed debut album Gold Chain Cowboy. The Texas native has been recognized as an "Artist to Watch" by Rolling Stone, Billboard, CMT and many others. Appearing on the pre-race stage ahead of McCollum's performance will be Carl Edwards and Kyle Larson, each of whom were named to NASCAR's 75 greatest drivers list.
